Help choosing your hob options

Classic gas hob

Appreciated for their performance and ease-of-use, gas burners have always been preferred by chefs. Featuring solid brass burners and heavy robust cast-iron pan supports.

Traditional hob upgrade option

You can add a simmer plate to your hob. The simmer plate heats up thanks to a powerful gas burners. Cast iron heats evenly all around its surface, thus enabling you to either cook, simmer or just keep your dishes warm before serving.

Induction hobs

Induction is the latest development to be adopted by cooks and offers an easy clean glass-ceramic surface. The technology is safer and allows for rapid and easy adjustment of heating rates whilst giving a very precise control of cooking temperature

Lacanche Bussy Classic 90

The Bussy Classic 90 range has six gas or induction hob zones and a combination of two ovens. A gas or electric oven and a vertical electric multifunction oven together give you a choice of three cooking modes: static, grill and convection.

The storage drawer is useful for cookware, baking trays and dishes.

Help choosing your oven types

Static oven with grill

Heat travels into the oven from the top and bottom, and without a fan to dry the air, the oven is more moist – ideal for traditional meat cooking. Heat will raise making the top of the oven hotter than the bottom allowing you to cook different items at different speeds.

Dual function oven with grill

These ovens allow you to swap between static and convection functions at a flick of a switch.

Fan ovens are the most popular oven type. A convection oven heats up quicker and provides an even cooking environment – ideal for batch cooking multiple items together. A grill is also included for browning and traditional grilling.

Gas oven

Always being famous for their high performance and recently improved for 2016 the new gas ovens now range from 100°C to 260°C. Great for roasting and slow cooking.
